Kestrel shall defend, indemnify and hold harmless Client from and against third party claims ("Claims") and Client's damages, liabilities, settlements, judgments, costs and expenses ("Losses") resulting from such Claims to the extent they are based on allegations that the Kestrel Software, used by Client as expressly authorized during the applicable support and/or subscription term, infringes any third party copyright or U.S. patent or misappropriates any third party trade secret. The foregoing obligations of Kestrel set forth in this section do not apply to any Claim or Loss to the extent it results from or arises out of (i) Client confidential information or Client's software, equipment or systems, (ii) the use of any Kestrel Software in combination with any technology, hardware, software, service, information, processes, and/or other property not provided by Altera or Kestrel or that Altera or Kestrel recommends not be used with such Kestrel Software; (iii) Client's continued use of the Kestrel Software after Altera or Kestrel has provided an IP Remedy. Client shall ensure that all Authorized Users, including those that are representatives of the U.S. Government or any other government body, are permitted to use the Software (including the Kestrel Software) only as expressly authorized under the Altera Agreement and these Terms. Neither Client nor any government body shall receive any ownership, license, or other rights other than those expressly set forth herein, irrespective of (a) whether Client is an agency, agent, or other instrumentality of the U.S. Government or any other government body, (b) whether Client is entering into or performing under the Altera Agreement or these Terms in support of a U.S. Government or any other government agreement or utilizing any U.S. Government or any other government funding of any nature, or (c) anything else.

viii. Third Party Beneficiary. Client acknowledges and agrees that Kestrel is an intended third party beneficiary of the Terms and is entitled to the rights and benefits thereunder and may enforce the provisions of these Terms against Client.

ix. Dispute Resolution.

a. Negotiation. The Parties shall attempt in good faith to resolve any dispute hereunder pursuant to this Section. Either Party may initiate negotiations by providing notice to the other Party, setting forth the subject of the dispute. Only if the dispute is not resolved through negotiation within thirty (30) days thereafter, may either Party initiate an arbitration or litigation of that dispute and then only in accordance with this Section.

b. Arbitration. Each dispute that is not resolved under the “Negotiation” section shall be decided by binding arbitration administered by JAMS under its then-current Comprehensive Arbitration Rules and Procedures, provided that to the extent such rules are inconsistent with the Altera Agreement or these Terms, the Altera Agreement and these Terms shall govern. Related actions between the Parties shall be consolidated. Arbitration awards shall be final and binding upon the Parties, and judgment on any such award may be entered in any court having jurisdiction thereof. The arbitrator(s) shall have no power or authority to award special, incidental, consequential, exemplary, punitive or other indirect damages that would be inconsistent with the limitation of liability provision or the other provisions of the Altera Agreement or these Terms. All aspects of the arbitration and any award shall be confidential. Notwithstanding anything else, either Party may (a) seek equitable remedies from a court of competent jurisdiction and, if the disputes are urgent, seek provisional equitable remedies without following the informal dispute resolution terms of Section, and (b) in lieu of arbitration, litigate disputes concerning ownership or unauthorized use or disclosure of Confidential Information or intellectual property in courts of competent jurisdiction, and upon commencement of any such proceeding, any arbitration then pending shall be stayed, insofar as it concerns the matters subject to decision by such court. The prevailing Party (if any, and as adjudged by the arbitrator(s) or judge) shall be entitled to recover from the other the costs of arbitration or court proceedings and its attorneys’ fees and expenses, provided that the arbitrator(s) or judge may eliminate or reduce such recovery on grounds that it is unreasonable or disproportionate to the harm suffered. To the extent permitted by applicable law, the Parties hereby waive their right to a jury trial in any actions under the Altera Agreement or these Terms. No action, regardless of form, arising hereunder, may be brought by either Party against the other more than one year after the cause of action has accrued, except that, (a) an action for non-payment may be brought by Kestrel at any time, and (b) subject to the applicable statutes of limitations, an action for breach of or default under the license restrictions or confidentiality sections of the Altera Agreement may be brought at any time.

c. Governing Law/Forum. This Terms shall be governed by and interpreted according to the laws of the State of Illinois, disregarding any conflict-of-laws rules which may direct the application of the laws of another jurisdiction. Each arbitration shall be conducted in Raleigh, North Carolina or through the use of remote technology such as phone or video conferencing and any cause of action shall be subject to the State and Federal courts located in Raleigh, North Carolina. Each Party submits to this exclusive jurisdiction.

x. Survival of Provisions. The provisions of these Terms that impose or contemplate continuing obligations on or of a Party shall survive termination or expiration of the Altera Agreement and these Terms shall remain in effect until all related obligations are satisfied .
